

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES FOR DUD #03

To submit for DUD #03 simply follow these instructions. If you have any issues contact us at dunedincc@gmail.com. Templates are available if you wish to use them

If you wish to submit for DUD#03 you must email or get in touch by the 5th June with a brief outline of what you intend to do (ie: page count and description). There is only limited space in each issue so its important that we can get a feel for what content is available early on in order to assemble a well rounded publication

DISCLAIMER.

While we will consider any submission, we do reserve the right to not publish submissions. If you are unsuccessful for whatever reason in being published in a issue of DUD, we encourage you to keep on submitting. Generally the reasons why someone isn't accepted is due to page number restraints or too many submissions having a similar style or within the same genre. We want to keep it as diverse as possible.

SUBMISSION DIMENSIONS.

To ensure the best possible final product we have set some specific max wxh dimensions for all artists to follow. There are two dimension options available and we hope they will cater to most peoples needs, if not get in touch to discuss.

OPTION ONE: 184 x 258mm

This option allows the artwork to have a generous amount of white space around it and also takes into consideration page numbering and any other text that may be present on the page.

OPTION TWO: 216 x 303mm full bleed.

This option is for people that want to fill up the entire page. The measurement include a 'safe' 3mm bleed around the outside of the page. This is to ensure there is no ugly white trim if the page is cut slightly askew. While your artwork will go to the edge of the page, it is strongly recommend all important information is kept within a 184 x 258mm safe area.
